Discussion groups composed of 8-12 students will be organized to be held in the weeks following the workshop. Discussions will be based on "On Being a Scientist: A Guide to Responsible Conduct in Research" from the National Academies Press and led by junior scientists at Pasteur. Scheduling of the three separate one-hour discussions will occur immediately after the Workshop and all interested students are encouraged to sign up.

This workshop is a mandatory component of the PPU PhD program and highly recommended for all PhD students at Institut Pasteur.
